It is caused by there being too much bile in the system, from the fact that this bile is manufactured too rapidly, or is not worked out of the system fast enough by steady, active exercise .-Hence sedentary persons, those who do not walk about a great deal, but are seated in the house nearly all the time, are almost exclusively the victims of this distressing malady. GRAS. MINOT.

July 17, 1863.*

Nothing shows the paucity of ideas more than this talking about the affairs of your neighbors. It is not only malicious people who originate scandal, it is narrow minded people, ignorant people, stupid people. Persons of culture and intelligence are not so hard run for topics of conversation. They can usually find something to say about art literature, fashion or society. The moment people begin to talk of their neighbors—of persons rather talk of their neighbors—of persons rather than things—they are apt to degenerate into scandal; for where one speaks of the virtues of an acquaintance, a dozen expatiate on his or her shortcomings. And this brings us to speak of real culture, or white man commit assault and battery what we consider to be such, at least. A cultivated person, in the highest sense of DINING SALOON the term, is not merely one who can talk conditional release; and no one objects of books, pictures, and other elevated subjects of human interest. To be thoroughly cultivated, the heart, as well as the intelect, should be refined and enlarged .-Sometimes we see women who, without education, vet having been born amiable, embrace of the most loving character, she are not guilty of gossip. Again, we see women, not naturally amiable, whom education has taught to talk of things, not of persons. The perfect woman, in this respect, is one who is both amiable and educated. But education does not always sip. A really bad heart is always malious. The best advice we can give is the neighbor; and to speak of his or her conduct is usually to run the risk of being unjust. Much less should we talk of the Princess Helena, as Charles Augustus, motives of others. Very few of us know our own motives, and to venture on disussing a neighbor's motive is always impertinence, and often a real crime.

FEMALE SOCIETY. We endorse every word John Randolph says, young man, and act accordingly: "You know my opinion of female society. brutes. This observation applies with er days, we just made a hole in each end tys of the week, for years, a dean be consulted at the tenfold force to young men and those who and sucked." are in the prime of manhood. For, after a certain time in life, the literary man makes a shift (a poor one, I grant,) to do without the society of ladies. To a young man nothing is so important as a spirit of devotion (next to his Creator) to some amiable woman, whose image may occupy his heart, and guard it from pollution, which besets it on all sides. A man ought to choose a wife as Mrs. Primrose did her wedding gown, for qualities that "wear well." One thing at least is true-that if matrimony has it cares, celibacy has no Phirty-two and thirty-seven inches long and counted as lower and thirty-seven inches long and counted as lower to get out the timber.
